

Thousands Cheer Governors, Circus Parade

PARADE QUEEN Shirley Temple waves to the throngs that lined Palm Canyon Drive in today's parade while Circus Chairman Jimmy Morton watches Governors Steve McNichols of Colorado and Pat Brown of California exchange small talk along the line of march. The wives of the two gubernatorial executives are seated in the grand marshal car. Hordes of eager parade-goers jammed the line of march, cheered their favorites. (Desert Sun Photos).

NOT IN ORBIT, but well-received anyway was this salute to Colorado from Andrea of Palm Springs. Well-proportioned beauties in black space costumes guarded a space rocket with the girls—Lee Ann Howard, Jill Gerhart and Lynn Gerhart—all daughters of Andrea personnel. Blast-off of rocket never came—but low-flying Marine Corp jets provided plenty of whoosh over Palm Canyon Drive. (Desert Sun Photo).

'INN OF SIXTH HAPPINESS' was the title for the float entered by the Palm Springs Community School. The church's Chorale Choir, dressed in Chinese motif, were tended by a missionary portrayed by Mrs. Taylor Dunlevie. Costumed by Walth Clark, the float was financed by parents of the Play School. (Desert Sun Photo).

GOVERNORS, PARADE NET OVATION OF THOUSANDS

Palm Springs saluted the Rocky Mountain State of Colorado today with a tumultuous tribute punctuated by the roar of exploding six-guns and the cheers of thousands of spectators.

Stacked six-deep along a palm-lined avenue, they cheered the 23rd annual Desert Circus Parade, a kaleidoscopic caravan that clogged two miles of Palm Canyon Drive for almost two hours.

SOME 3,000 RIDERS and marching men paraded among color-washed floats, on silver mounted horses or marched to the tune of a dozen clamoring bands in the greatest parade ever assembled in the city's history.

They formed a glittering wake behind the parade Grand Marshals—Edmund G. "Pat" Brown, Governor of California, and Steve McNichols, Governor of Colorado—and the glamorous Desert Circus queen, Actress Shirley Temple.

Riding astride Ed McCoubrey's "Republican" Cadillac, the governors and their ladies ducked across the city and waved acknowledgement of the cheering thousands lining both sides of the parade route.

IT WAS THE DESERT Circus debut for the two governors who both declined an appearance at last night's Big Top Ball when union pickets staged their own parade at the gates of Thunderbird Country Club.

Governor and Mrs. Brown blended with the parading westerners in matching blue outfits adorned with palm trees, prospectors and California State flags.

But Governor Brown lacked the six-gun sported by his Colorado contemporary, whose wife donned a red sash blouse and turquoise slacks.

QUEEN SHIRLEY TEMPLE followed directly behind the gubernatorial car. She was flanked by Desert Circus President Jimmy Morton and High Sheriff Bob Six and his Colorado Six Guns, a batch of plaid-shirted, quick-draw artists.

Marines in camouflage jungle gear contrasted with the red shell jackets and glittering silver trappings of the Los Angeles Sheriff's Posse, which formed the honor guard at the forefront of the parade.

THEN CAME THE bands, riders and floats—bountifully adorned with bathing beauties. Square dancers cavorted on one float while a grinning chef lighted the candles on a gigantic birthday cake saluting Colorado's Centennial on another.

But easily the most popular float was the Community Church Play School's "Inn of the Sixth Happiness," which had Taylor

Weather

Desert area forecast: Variable high clouds but considerable sunshine today and Sunday. Locally windy and a little cooler in most sections in the afternoons. High temperatures today 78 to 88 in upper valleys, 88 to 98 in lower valleys. Yesterday's high was 96, the low, 63.

Dunlevie as "Jen Ai," the missionary teacher who led her Chinese children to freedom from Japanese invaders.

Clad in coolie garb, "Jen Ai" carried two "Chinese" moppets beneath the brightly-hued frame of a paper pagoda.

ST. THERESA'S Church offered up a flowery caricature of the Rocky Mountains and Cactus Slim Moorten had bathing beauties skimming down a slide into a miniature pool.

Black-clad, curvaceous "rocketeers" guarded a white rocket that formed a Salute to Colorado from Andrea of Palm Springs and square dancers whirled through a do-se-do or two on the City Recreation Department's rolling dance floor.

Precision marching by the uniformed contingent from USC's Naval ROTC Drill Team drew heavy applause along with the smartly uniformed bandmen and leggy baton twirlers assembled from Southland high schools.

SHINING PALOMINOS, buzzing golf carts and some startling entries—such as the woman whose horse seemed to sprout a fan of peacock feathers—rounded out the two-mile caravan that continued to wind its way down Palm Canyon Drive until well past the noon hour.

It was a thrilling, mid-point marker for the four days of Desert Circus Week, which still has a dozen exciting events—including a top-notch boxing match—programmed before the Salute to Colorado reaches its climax Sunday night.

Desert Circus Action Heavy On Final Days

Boxing, Symphony Highlight Saturday, Sunday Programs

The 23rd Annual Desert Circus goes into its home stretch here today and winds up tomorrow with the two most action-packed days of the entire five-day celebration saved for last.

Today the revelers will have Kangaroo Court, the Sheriff's Ball, a major professional prizefight and sundry other items to follow up this morning's huge two-mile parade.

ON SUNDAY, Villagers and their friends will watch antique cars perform, square dance and listen to symphonies played by the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra.

Here's the way the rest of today's and tomorrow's schedule breaks down:

1:30 p.m.—Antique car tour of Palm Springs area. Visiting members of the Antique Car Association of America will be led on a trip to see the local sights.

4 P.M.—KANGAROO Court at Tennis Club. Mayor Frank Bogert will sit as chief judge—with movie and TV star John Payne as an honorary advisor—as "violators" are brought before him. Punishments, as in Gilbert and Sullivan, are made to "fit."

COMMUNISTS RUSH 100,000 Fresh Troops to Tibet

NEW DELHI, UPI—The Communists have rushed 100,000 fresh troops into Tibet in an effort to crush the tough Khamba tribesmen who have taken up arms against them, according to reports reaching here today.

ALTHOUGH details of the battle for Tibet were scanty, reports from the border said shooting can still be heard on the outskirts of Lhasa, the two-mile high capital of the remote mountain state.

Morton Opposed As Head of GOP

WASHINGTON, UPI—Efforts to install Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky as the new Republican National Chairman were imperiled today by objections from two powerful GOP Congressional leaders.

SOME observers felt the objections raised by Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.) and Sen. Harry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) had doomed Morton's chances to get the job.

SIMPSON said both he and Goldwater felt the Republican National Committee should select someone "who will devote his full time to the job."

SYMPHONY DUCATS TO BE AVAILABLE AT AUDITORIUM

A few tickets still remain available for the symphony concert to be presented by the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra at 8:30 p.m., tomorrow, in Palm Springs High School Auditorium and will be available to the public in concert time.

The Palm Springs Playhouse Guild, sponsors of the local appearance of the orchestra, said that it would man the box office at the auditorium beginning at 5:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The Village presentation of the orchestra will unveil the directional abilities of Italian conductor Arturo Basile. The orchestra will play Tchaikovsky's Sixth Symphony, Respighi's Fountains of Rome, and Rossini's Overture to the Thieving Magician.

Alden Coffin Services Set For Tuesday

Alden H. Coffin, an active civic and community leader here for six years, died this morning in Desert Hospital following a lengthy illness. He was 64.

Coffin, whose activities here included Masonic, Shrine and American Legion affiliations, retired as owner of Sigwald Engineering Co. in Minneapolis, Minn., six years ago. He was chairman of the board of directors until his death.

He is survived by his widow, Florence, of Palm Springs; three sons, Richard of Palm Springs, and James and George of Minneapolis, and by 16 grandchildren. Funeral will be held at 11 a.m. Tuesday in Wiesel and Son Chapel with Rev. Frederick Barnhill, pastor of St. Paul's in the Desert Episcopal Church, officiating. Interment is to be at Desert Memorial Park. Friends are asked to contribute to the Cancer Fund in lieu of flowers.

By Board, Teachers

Compromise of Proposed Higher Teacher Salaries to Be Discussed

Palm Springs Board of Education members have called for a meeting with school district teachers to work out an "effective compromise" on proposed salary increases for the 1959-60 school year.

Board members, meeting in an informal study session, suggested a compromise between total proposed basic salary schedules submitted by representatives of the Palm Springs Teachers Association.

IT WAS THE board's general opinion that a new, upgraded salary structure should strike about midway between either a blanket $400 "across the board" increase or a graduated scale of increases ranging from $400 on the lowest step to about $775 on the highest.

Attractive by teachers and board members.

PLAN FIVE suggests a $400 across the board increase and Plan Six calls for graduated increases that would bring the lowest salary to $5,200 and the highest attainable to $9,200.

While they cannot take action on salary schedules until next Thursday's regular board session, board members appeared unanimously in favor of a $5,200 starting salary for new teachers.

THIS WAS regarded as an essential step in bringing Palm Springs starting salaries to a commensurate level with other Southern districts and to attract new teachers, "fresh out of college."

Comparatively low starting salaries here are responsible for "a noticeable lack" of newly certificated teachers in the Palm Springs School District, board members agreed.

But heavy board discussion revealed divided opinion on the proposed elevation of salaries for the highest teacher categories.

SINCE NO ONE, including the teachers, appeared to favor an "across the board" increase, board members decided to "try and work out" a compromise that would strike somewhere between the two plans as an interim solution.

It was felt that the problem of higher pay scales for teachers in the lowest categories—those with the most experience—should be apportioned on a merit basis.

THE BOARD proposed a study to blueprint a means of inaugurating a merit increase system in the next school year.

Meanwhile, the suggested salary compromise will be carried to the teachers by board representatives.

Water Still Rising In Illinois; More Prepare to Evacuate

United Press International Spring floods soaked New England and the Midwest Saturday, chasing more than 2,000 persons from their homes and climaxing a week of turbulent weather.

Some 1,700 persons were homeless in the industrial Rockford area in Northwest Illinois and the rampaging Pecatonica River threatened another 2,000 with evacuation in nearby Freeport. Sudden floods in Wisconsin drove 360 more into temporary shelters.

PREPARATIONS WERE begun throughout New England as sudden floods swept through parts of Vermont and New Hampshire and threatened towns in Connecticut and Rhode Island.

The watery onslaught capped a week in which southern tornadoes, eastern fog and northern rains took 30 lives.

THE TORNADOES and high winds killed 10 persons in Texas, three in Florida and one in Oklahoma while Wisconsin and Vermont each reported a single flood victim.

Three crewmen were killed early Friday when an 83-foot trawler ran aground off Cape Cod, Mass., and one man was killed when a U. S. Navy Super Constellation plane crashed while trying an emergency landing on a fog-enclosed airstrip at Argentina, Nfld.

AT ROCKFORD, the swollen Rock River threatened to surpass its highest crest in history, a peak of 63 inches recorded in 1929.

At Freeport, where 35 to 40 blocks are still under water the Weather Bureau predicted the Pecatonica would crest at 17.5 feet by midnight Saturday. That depth would flood all of Freeport's East Bank section, routing 2,000 residents and would block all but one highway in the area.

The Milwaukee River slammed into the Milwaukee suburbs of Glendale and Mequon and isolated the 700 residents of Saukville.

THE NEW ENGLAND floods struck with dramatic suddenness and were expected to spread swiftly through the six-state area. Flood warnings were out for White River Junction, Vt., Hartford and Middletown, Conn., and Woonsocket, R. I.

Samuel Axelrod To Be Honored For UJA Work

DESERT HOT SPRINGS—Recognition of a community service rendered by Samuel Axelrod will be conducted at 8 p. m. Sunday, in the Jewish Community Center here.

Featured event will be presentation of a plaque by Harry Karchmer of the Los Angeles offices of the United Jewish Appeal, in recognition of Axelrod's continued services to the UJA campaigns.

Dr. Ralph J. Kaplan, one of the foremost commentators on world politics, economics and social problems will be featured speaker at the presentation ceremonies. Dr. Kaplan is a featured news analyst heard at 10:30 a. m., Sunday, via radio station KDES.

A film titled "One Suitcase," the story of a Romanian refugee flight to Israel, will be shown during the program and refreshments are scheduled to follow.

Committee in charge of the program includes Rabbi Isaac E. Bloch, Center President Jack Green and Treasurer Leo Sattler.

Family Dinner Held in Honor Of Nadia Staples

PALM DESERT — Mrs. Ed (Nadia) Staples was honored with a family dinner at their Palm Desert home. Her sister, Mrs. George Keller, arrived from her home in Portland, Ore., for the occasion and will be a houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Staples through April.

Also present was Mr. Staples' mother, Mrs. Pearl Staples, who has been visiting with them since mid-December. She plans to leave for her home in Portland the end of this week and will stop to visit a few days with friends Dr. and Mrs. Leland Chapin. He is head of public speaking and drama at Stanford University.

Adult Recreation Park Planned

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Tentative plans for adult play gear in Desert Hot Springs Community Park will be discussed when the community's Park Board meets at 7:30 p. m., Monday, in Chamber of Commerce headquarters.

REVISED TRIBAL LAND PLAN TOLD

Congressman D. S. Saund told city officials yesterday that he has introduced a "slightly revised" plan for equalization of Agua Caliente Indian tribal lands here.

But Congressman Saund assured the City Council that "no bill will be passed without proper provisions for the airport and your canyons."

SAUND REPORTED that he introduced his bill last month with minor revisions affecting the bath house property, lowering its area from eight to two acres, and other "fringe areas" of the plan.

He said he had conferred with Tribal Attorney Ray Simpson, Indian Bureau officials and Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton.

"Seaton assured me that the bill will be heard and that Indian Bureau action will be halted until Congress hears it," Saund reported.

SAUND SAID THE bill will not be passed without the provision that gives the city option to buy the Airport lands. The bill calls for an option to buy the property for $2 million.

He noted that he expects no conflict with the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

"This is a compromise bill," he said. "It has Indian Bureau backing."

Water Company Bonds Approved

An order authorizing the sale of $400,000 in Palm Springs Water Company bonds to John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company for construction of a new Tahquitz Reservoir and mains has been approved by the California Public Utilities Commission — although the PUC criticized the local water firm for allowing "restrictive provisions" to be included in the sale indenture.

The order, signed March 31 at San Francisco, declared that the water company was "in immediate need of funds to liquidate current liabilities and to meet construction costs" on the Tahquitz job.

"WE DO NOT LOOK with favor on the restrictive provisions in the indenture with respect to the redemption of the bonds," the Commission declared.

The redemption clauses indicate that the utility firm will not be allowed to redeem the bonds — which are being held at 5 1/4 per cent annual interest rate — until March 1, 1964, if the money used to redeem them is obtained by any means involving an interest rate that is lower.

"THERE APPEARS to be no restriction in the indenture against the redemption of bonds through the issue of equity securities," the PUC noted.

Total estimated cost of the Tahquitz construction program is $268,317 with the major portions going to construction of the reservoir ($162,230), installation of a main along Ramon Road ($64,060) and painting of the reservoir ($26,966).

THE PUC ORDER said that the purchase agreement and deed of trust could be executed anytime between March 31 and Sept. 30, 1959. The Commission also said that the Palm Springs Water Company must file a monthly report — or reports — regarding the transaction and that the authority to proceed with the arrangements would be held determinate on the utility company's payment of a $400 fee.

The Security First National Bank was named trustee of the deed of trust.

Chief Issues Commendation To Policewoman

Police Chief August G. Kettmann today issued a commendation to policewoman Barbara Setzer, "who assisted materially in the apprehension of Lloyd Woods, Maurice Prince, John Hagenson and Albert Moore, arrested March 29 on charges of illegal gambling."

In his commendation Kettmann said, "I am advised that you handled yourself in a poised and restrained manner and contributed considerably to the success of the operation which was necessarily one of a delicate nature."

Out on $250 bail, the four men face trial in the Palm Springs Judicial District court April 14.

A Palm Springs winter resident for the past two years, Gibbs was a native of Industry, Ill. He was a retired employee of the U. S. Lame Co., of Nevada.

Gibbs leaves his widow, Margaret, of Palm Springs; a daughter, Billie Hughes, of Babbitt, Nev.; an aunt, Lucy Brooks, of Burlingame, Iowa, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m., Monday, in the Wiefels and Son Mortuary Chapel by Rev. James Arnold, of Cathedral City Community Church. Interment will follow at Desert Memorial Park.

Noted Author Fred Gipson Visits at SMC

PALM DESERT — Fred Gipson, author of the best-selling "Old Yeller," interrupted work on a story of California's gold rush days to join Dr. and Mrs. James Mitchell of Palm Desert in a dinner at Shadow Mountain Club this week. Gipson's latest completed work is "Recollection Creek," which has been published as a book and which is being readied for motion picture production by Avon Productions.

The Texan also authored "Hound Dog Man," "The Home Place" and a host of other works.

NEW APARTMENTS EXPECTED TO BE READY BY SUMMER

CATHEDRAL CITY — Contractor William Boyd plans to have the first nine units of his new, two-story, Second Street apartment building ready for operation this summer.

Boyd was formerly a prominent construction man in the Oceanside area, where he served as contractor for a major subdivision created by Leif W. Henie, of Palm Springs.

It was previously erroneously reported that the subdivision was owned by Henie's sister, world-famed ice skater Sonja Henie.

Boyd's new apartment project here features one-bedroom rental units and a large, heated swimming pool.

JAMES HOLLOWELL

Hollowell Opens Own Law Offices Here for Year

Palm Springs attorney James Hollowell has opened his own law offices at 1087 North Palm Canyon Drive.

A practicing attorney here for the past year, Hollowell was formerly associated with Saul Ruskin.

HOLLOWELL, a native of Yonkers, N. Y., received his law degree from the University of North Carolina in 1933. He joined the North Carolina Bar and entered the Army that same year.

Hollowell served with the Judge Advocate General's Corps in Stuttgart, Germany, where he prosecuted and defended Army personnel charged with military and civil crimes, until January, 1937.

THE 30-YEAR-OLD bachelor was subsequently released from active duty with the rank of captain and moved to Los Angeles, where he was admitted to the California Bar in January 1938.

Building Values At Half-Million

New construction in the unincorporated areas adjacent to Palm Springs was valued at $468,887 during the month of March, County Building Director C. G. Bixel reported today.

Bixel said the Palm Springs area building included 46 new dwellings worth $331,420.

March building in the areas north of Palm Springs totaled $233,373, while construction in areas south of the city was valued at $235,314, Bixel said.

Man Wanted in Newport Beach Is Arrested Here

Harry Lee Sammons, 32-year-old Palm Springs bartender, was escorted to Newport Beach yesterday as a temporary guest of the fashionable resort city. But it's no vacation for Sammons.

Sammons, arrested by Palm Springs police at his McKinney Trailer Park home, is charged with the burglary of a Newport Beach home.

Detective Richard Larson said the veteran Village bartender was a neighbor of the burglarized home and "suddenly left" the beach city when officers wanted a comparison of his prints with those found in the looted house.

Newport Beach police said the later matched the prints found in the house with those posted on Sammons' prior criminal record.

Arrested on a Newport Beach warrant, Sammons was transferred to the beach city's jail, where he's being held in lieu of $10,000 bail.

Mother's Advice

ITHACA, N.Y. (UPI) —Adolescent girls think mother knows best after all. Studies at Cornell University suggest that most teen-aged girls tend to follow mother's directions rather than do what their friends do.

The research, carried out by Virginia S. Bersohn under direction of associate professor Harry Levin, also indicated that older girls take their mothers' advice more often than younger girls.

Showdown on Germany

The coming showdown over Berlin, forced upon the West by the Khrushchev ultimatum, was inevitable, as we reported in recent columns, mainly because of Soviet fears over the economic and military growth of West Germany. The Russian timetable over Germany has been moved up because of the deterioration of the East German economy while West Germany is breaking all records of production, employment and prosperity.

Russia is also determined to conclude a peace treaty that will bar Germany from rearming, or from remaining in the NATO alliance. Probably the report that West Germany is considering nuclear weapons had a decided effect on Khrushchev's decision to bring the German question to a head.

IN SPITE OF the blusterings of Soviet puppet dictator Walter Ulbricht, the German Democratic Republic (East Germany) is not a dependable Soviet ally. East Germany is made up of five old German provinces . . . Saxony, Thuringia, Mecklenburg-Pomerania, Sachsen-Anhalt . . . with some 17 million proud Germans, the overwhelming majority of whom hate Communism.

East Germany is greatly handicapped as an economic unit, for it could not survive without Soviet help. The majority of the people are restive and ripe for revolt for economic reasons . . . but more so for nationalistic and ethnological reasons. Most of them are proud Germans and the humiliating partition of their country and culture is repugnant indeed.

IT IS reported often in Berlin, by escapees from the Iron Curtain, that probably only a fraction of Germans in East Germany would raise arms against their countrymen in West Germany. One escapee told this reporter at the headquarters of Radio Free Europe in Munich: "I would first kill all the Communists around me and then kill myself before I would fire a shot at a fellow German." This is pretty typical of the thinking of the German people we meet there.

It is apparent to this reporter, from having covered both Germany and Russia often during the past 28 years, and almost constantly since about the days of the Berlin airlift . . . that the Soviet Union cannot relinquish control in Germany to the West and survive as a strong Communist state. Loss of Germany will start the deterioration . . . by further reduction of civilian goods, by greater back-breaking armament costs which have already brought Russia close to bankruptcy . . . loss of prestige among the satellites, to mention only these major eventualities.

IT APPEARED TO Russia that by creating an East German state, as she did soon after the war . . . and by authorizing in 1956 a 100,000 People's Army, that she could keep a reasonable balance with the West German state. She also expected to use East Germany as a foothold to the great industrial arsenal of West Germany . . . or to prevent its use against the Soviet Union.

The highly developed industrial skill of some 50 million Germans living in West Germany is a formidable economic, not to mention military, factor to be reckoned with by Russia, especially when it is so closely aligned with the industrial and military power of the West.

IN CASE of crisis, German bases, manpower, military ingenuity are a dangerous threat to Soviet security. But the Russian strategy not only failed—but time has further deteriorated the Soviet position in Germany because of the unprecedented comeback of West Germany, while East Germany has been going down.

This comparison of the two Germanys . . . one prospering under a free democratic system, while the other is starving under a state-controlled Communist system . . . has exposed the Soviet Union to world-wide humiliation. Even socialists, like Prime Minister Nehru, are making public statements as to the amazing recovery of West Germany under the capitalist system.

PREMIER Khrushchev and the Soviet government have watched West Germany prosper and become an increasingly powerful magnet to the less fortunate and disgruntled people of East Germany. Even more so, it is an example for Russia's satellites, for the Russian people forced to live under a state-controlled economy, the neutrals, as well as the uncommitted nations around the world. This is Khrushchev's economic nightmare. He is determined to force a German peace treaty that will recognize the East German government by the West . . . to more closely integrate the East with the West German economies to reduce the successful show-window of the West . . . and to prevent a rearmament of Germany, either inside or outside unification. A rearmament of Germany is Khrushchev's second major nightmare.

PREMIER Khrushchev wants and probably will get a Summit conference. He has insisted ever since taking office that only the heads of government can settle international problems. He wants a Summit conference on Germany before the situation deteriorates any further. His ultimatum, due May 27, in our opinion is a bluff to expedite this meeting. He could easily extend it.

His main efforts at the coming Summit will be toward preventing a rearmament of West Germany . . . to keep nuclear weapons out of the West German military arsenal . . . to make another stab at the removal of all foreign troops from German soil . . . to give the German people the impression that Russia alone is concerned with a unified Germany.

IN OUR OPINION he is ready to make any reasonable concessions to the West for the attainment of his major objective: to weaken West Germany as an economic and military threat to bolster the declining prestige of East Germany. Toward this end Khrushchev will negotiate . . . bluff . . . not fight.

For to risk war over Berlin is to risk disaster for Communism, both inside and outside Russia.

The Russian Army is no match for the combined forces of the Western Alliance. If it was . . . and victory had a good chance . . . Khrushchev would have attacked us long ago. In spite of Soviet threats, the odds in our opinion are overwhelmingly against us. The Soviet strategy against us is not in the direction of military showdowns.

This is one area which they know they cannot win . . . at least this is the impression they have given us each time we flexed our muscles to meet their threats of military force. Each time they back down . . . like Iran, Iraq, Lebanon, Suez Canal, Formosa Straits, Korea, Indo-China, as well as in 1948 over the same Berlin.—John Morley

Lausche (D) and Young (D)

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Ohio's two U. S. Senators — Stephen Young and Frank Lausche—while both Democrats, have illustrated in the 86th Congress, first session, first semester, that Gilbert and Sullivan knew their stuff. The famous British comic opera collaborators wrote:

"I often think it comical
How Nature always does contrive
That every boy and every girl
That's born into the world alive—
Is either a little Liberal
Or else a little Conservative."
(Iolanthe Act 2)

Senator Young, who comes first in the couplet although second in Senate service, prefers to put the matter another way. He is a Democrat, he likes to say, without prefix — a regular Democrat. Senator Lausche, several times Ohio's Governor, would never fight his colleague for the right of title to regularity. Lausche is the epitome of go-it-alone individualism.

THE MEN are contrasted in every way except party. Young is small, intense and outgoing. Lausche is large, shaggy, emotional in oratory, but given to a brooding mood in personal demeanor. In the Senate their voting records have often divided like a fork in the road.

The most recent example came on the Area Redevelopment bill, calling for nearly $400 million of community construction by the Federal government. Lausche voted against it. Young cast what the analysts like to call a "crucial" vote in its favor. The bill passed the Senate 49 to 46, but two absent Senators indicated that, if present, they would have voted with the minority.

HAD THEY been there and had not Young defeated John Bricker (R) last fall, the two Ohio votes would have gone against the bill. With the Vice President's tie-breaker, this major Democratic effort would have gone down to defeat.

This instance alone would mark Young as an "important" liberal

Democrat. But prior to that he gave the Democratic leadership his vote on the huge airport construction bill, while Lausche was being counted in the opposition. The two Senators were together on the four-year draft, but divided again on the Omnibus Housing bill, although this one takes a little explaining.

LAUSCHE supported a number of amendments to modify the housing bill, which is a dubious piece of legislation on several counts. Both Ohio Senators supported the final passage, where Lausche refused to play dog-in-the-manger. But the senior Senator then exercised his celebrated talent for irregularity and independence.

Lausche announced that should President Eisenhower veto the housing bill, he would vote to sustain the disapproval. The spectacle of a non-Southern Democrat backing a Republican President on this sort of issue is one of the rarest sights in Washington.

THESE TWO Senators think differently, and yet it would be a mistake to put them down as automatic opposites. They both supported Hawaiian statehood, and both are opposing the Great Lakes Water Diversion project, a measure that would lower the water level around Cleveland in order to supply Chicago with a sanitary canal.

This bill has passed the House, and in the Senate will come before the Public Works committee, where Young is a member. Senator Young has also introduced a bill (S. 859) which presumably may get Lausche's approval. It is a measure that would designate the Great Lakes region as eligible for benefits under the Flood Control Act.

SUCH IS the happy diversity of human nature. A Liberal does not always behave as one. A Conservative sometimes sheds his spots. Lausche as Governor, used to express some reservations about Civil Defense expenditures, and as Senator he has generally favored economy almost straight down the line. But it was Young at this present session, and not his senior colleague, who made the most scathing and unanswerable attack upon the Civil Defense boondoggle.

Young, with Lausche-like emotion, laced into the Civil Defense program. He went after the "stupidity" and "futility" of hiring salaried bureaucrats in "sinecures" to squander public money for useless preparations. He denounced the use of Federal funds to draw "matching" funds from the States.

HE ASSAULTED the wasteful dumping of "surplus" machinery in the States on the pretense of making the cities more safe from destruction. He accused the Civil and Defense Mobilization director, Leo Hoegh, with empire-building an organization that is already top-heavy with "high-salaried, unnecessary and unproductive" desk-sitters.

Altogether, it was a dilly of a speech, but you got the impression that the two Ohio Senators had exchanged roles. The liberal was attacking Federal spending, bureaucracy and military largesse. These are customarily the targets of the conservative. The "regular" politician was behaving like a rampant "individualist."

But such is life. Liberals and conservatives, although born that way, need not remain ideological conformists when they grow up.

Sports we now have
Make up a long list
And tonight we add
The flailing fist.

Palm Springs has long been known as the center for golf, tennis, polo, swimming, baseball, basketball, football, handball, volleyball, shuffleboard . . . Something for almost everybody.

Tonight we add another sport to our varied list — the gentle art of bashing beezers.

Some day, who knows, we may even be able to lay a deuce on the bangtails.

Something for everybody.

THIS STORY is true but the names have been left out to protect the participants from unnecessary roughness on the part of higher-ups.

But seems a local service truck was en route on a repair job and stopped at a service station for gasoline.

The tank filled, the boss said: "Let's go," and climbed into the seat with the driver who took off for Cathedral City and their tank.

HUMMING ALONG Highway 111 they heard the rear door of the truck banging in the breeze.

"Close that door," they yelled back to the third member of the crew who was supposedly back there.

The door banged on. "CLOSE THAT DOOR!" they called again, not so gently. Just bang, bang.

THEY TURNED to make their request more emphatic — but the truck was devoid of personnel.

Fearful that their compatriot had met some mishap such as bouncing out of the truck on his head, they retraced their steps looking — all of the way back to the gas station.

There he was unhurt. His explanation? He had been in the rest room when the truck took off.

IT GOT TOO HOT too early so I goofed on my customary spring suggestion of a way the Desert Circus could augment its funds for charity.

That's the plan for a pool on the day and the hour the mercury first tops the 100-degree mark. Sell lots of tickets, give the winner one-fourth, keep the rest for charity.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

I was sitting around on Sunday uplifting myself with the Sunday comics when the phone rang.

"Would you like to go to New York this morning?" "THIS morning?" "Certainly. The jet leaves in a couple of hours."

"What would I do in New York?"

WELL, THE press agent hemmed and he hawed. He said I could have lunch, that is what I could do in New York. "We will be back in San Francisco tonight. It is the wonder of the jet age."

Well, the wonder of the jet age is just what I am wondering about. We had some people visiting us and they immediately made a controversy out of it.

"What an opportunity! You really should go. Imagine lunch in New York and back that night in San Francisco!"

I POINT OUT that the lady speaking did not have to put down the comics. She did not have to ride out to the airport. In from the New York airport. Back out to the New York airport. Back to San Francisco. Back from the San Francisco airport. No, sir. All she had to do was imagine.

I said it was an awfully long way to go for lunch. This was cried down by all hands. It was obvious I did not appreciate my opportunities. And they were going to see that I did. Everybody gets into the act. That is the wonder of this wondrous age.

THE OTHER NIGHT I was talking to a rubber baron from Akron, Ohio. He said the wonder of my flying age is that now he scarcely gets time to put a foot on the ground.

"When I was a young man in the tire business, we used to send senior vice presidents down to Australia by boat. It was a sign of accomplishment — something that might come once in your lifetime."

"Now," he said, "if they open a new dealer, or a tire shipment is late, they pop you on a plane. 'Joe,' they say, 'run over to Melbourne and see what happened. 'Joe, we think you ought to get to Dakar next week.'"

UNDER PRODDING, I called the airline pres agent back.

"What are they having for lunch?" I said weakly. "You can get anything you want in New York. It is a big city."

There was no help in that direction. I had thought I might plead that I did not care for the menu.

ANOTHER THING I notice in airplane travel: You cannot just go where you want to go. You must go some place a little further.

"You mean you are going to Paris and not go on to Rome? Why, it is just a couple of hours. I will write down the name of the most FASCINATING little place . . ."

If you go to Rome, you are missing life's greatest chance if you do not go on to Athens. If you go to Athens, you mean you are not going on to Cairo? Let me tell you . . .

THE QUESTION I ask is what will you find if you are hurried so wondrously to New York. Sometimes I do not wish to hurry.

This morning I rose and consulted my calendar. The dentist appointment I thought I had or today is not today. It is tomorrow. This has improved my outlook on the day considerably.

It depends on what we will find in New York. Love? Lunch? A dentist appointment? I tried to explain this to the airline man.

"PHILOSOPHY," he said sharply, "will get you nowhere."

That is a very good thought. I got in my four-jet philosophy and went down to the village hot dog stand for lunch. Got back before the jet got back from New York. There's speed or you. With mustard.

EARL WILSON:

King Has 2,000 Stores

NEW YORK — At Marie McDonald's big opening at the Plaza Persian Room every hotel employee except Conrad Hilton was busy juggling American Beauty roses onto the floor in tribute.

After five identical baskets and one large bunch had been deposited at her feet, I asked her the name of the Big Spender. "I think some of them came from Murray," she said demurely. She referred — she said — to Murray Rosenberg of New Jersey, a divorced shoe manufacturer, who is evidently a romantic interest.

Marie, whose figure and voice these days are really sensational, explained: "You remember, my former husband (Harry Karl) had 200 shoe stores? Well, Murray Rosenberg has over 2,000 shoe stores!" I wonder if it was hard to shoes between them.

Liz Taylor can't win at this point in Las Vegas; reports from there (while she awaits Eddie Fisher's opening) are that she has eight pistol-toting guards patrolling her ranch and that they tell visiting reporters: "We can get rough." One picture taken so far: an aerial shot of the ranch.

HOLLYWOOD — Officer Cal Bolder of the Los Angeles traffic squad tagged talent agent Bob Raison for speeding on the Hollywood Freeway two months ago. Raison signed the good-looking cop as a client. Calelectric Plans 1.5 Million Budget

California Electric Power Co. will spend almost $1,500,000 for construction in its Palm Springs service area during 1959 to improve and maintain its electric facilities and expand service to customers, Francis Crocker, district manager, announced today.

Crocker said that most of the budgeted amount would go for distribution extensions, distribution substation improvements and distribution lines. Transmission facilities and general expenses will take approximately $50,000.

THE PALM SPRINGS district includes the desert communities of Desert Hot Springs, Palm Desert, Cabazon and Cathedral City.

The company's system-wide 1959 construction budget amounts to over $13,000,000. It covers development of additional power producing facilities as well as expansion and improvement of transmission, distribution and general service facilities.

APPROXIMATELY $4,300,000 is included in the 1959 budget for construction.

John J. Pershing was the only American ever to hold the rank of General of the Armies. President Eisenhower and others have held the rank of General of the Army.

struction of steam electric generating units and improvement of existing steam electric and hydro electric generating plants.

Transmission facilities will take $630,000 for improvements, replacements and maintenance of existing lines and substations. Extension, distribution facilities will require $7,500,000 and general expenses will make up the remainder of the more than $13,000,000 proposed budget expenditure.

Book Reviews To Be Feature At Club Meeting

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — A book review by Elsie Arnesen and a review by Grace Parsons Harmon of her own works will be featured when Desert Hot Springs Women's Club meets at 1:30 p.m., Tuesday, here.

Group to View Officer Slate

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Nomination of a slate of officers to head the Desert Hot Springs Improvement Association will be held at 7:20 p.m., tonight, Saturday in Town Hall here.

Mrs. C. C. Covey, who heads the group's nominating committee, said today that the business portion of the meeting — primarily the presentation of the suggested officers — will follow a potluck supper that is to begin at 6:30 p.m.

Attendees at the supper are asked to bring their own service in order to cut down on inconvenience in use of the Town Hall facilities.

A special colored slide presentation by Ole Hansen of Yucca Valley, detailing his trip to Europe last year, will follow the business meeting. Selections by vocalist-accompanist Raymond Catalano, will also be offered.

LEYENDA, Brown Mare, 1955 by BEY out of SILVER LASS by BAHAM & SILVER STAR by FOX CUB. Booked to NOSCA, (1959).

*NOOR made world history in the silks of the late Mr. Charles S. Howard, trained by Burley Parke and ridden by Jockey John Longden.

*Noor was bred by the late H. H. AGA KHAN and sold by Mr. Spencer to Mr. Howard in 1948.

All 28 head of breeding and racing stock offered here come from the same Stud as did *Noor and many other noted horses.

It is a well known fact in the turf world that Americans have the KHANS' to thank for having sent us, so many great thoroughbreds from whom so many of our greatest horses stem. Including "BLENHEIM... * MAHMOUD... BAHAM... * GINO... * HAIRAN... * ALIBHAI... * KHALED... * TULYAR... * NOOR... * NATHOO... * NASRULLAH... * GALLANT MAN... * UVIRA II... * KERKEB... * MAJIDEH... * MASAKA... * RIVAZ, ETC., ETC.

THREE-YEAR-OLD RACING STOCK (4 Fillies and 1 Colt)

ESMERALDA, Brown Filly 1956 by TULYAR out of MAHALLAT by NEARCO & MAJIDEH by MAHMOUD. MAHALLAT and GALLANT MAN and MASAKA are all out of MAJIDEH. Has not started.

CELSIANA, Ch. Filly, 1956 by SUNNY BOY out of EPHEMERIS by HYPERION. Has not started.

LIBERTAD, Grey Filly, 1956 by PALESTINE out of REINE DES BOIS II by BOIS ROUSSEL & QUEEN OF SHIRAZ (dam of "POONA") by BAHAM.

SANTA ISABEL, Br. Filly, 1956 by DANTE out of SHAMSHEERI by TEHRAN & BENANE by BIG GAME & THERESINA, (half-sister *ALIBHAI).

SAINT DESIR, Bay Colt, 1956 by AURIBAN out of DJENNE by DJEBEL. Nice Colt. Two starts, 1 fifth and 1 third, both at LONGCHAMP, the third was in a big Stake Race, PRIX DE CONDE at 1 1/4 miles.

FOUR-YEAR-OLD RACING STOCK

PRINCE OF YERODA, Bay Colt, 1955 by PRINCE BIO out of ROSE OF YERODA by NEARCO. Won four nice races in 1958—full brother to the great Stakes filly, ROSE ROYALE II. Ideal 7-f. to 1 1/8 miles.

TELEMAQUE, Bay Colt, 1955 by TEHRAN out of TAMBARA by NASRULLAH out of THERESINA, (half-sister to *ALIBHAI). Stakes winner, best distance 1 m. to 1 1/4 miles.

CAPITAINE CORCORAN, Ch. Colt, 1955 by WILD RISK out of PARTIE CARREE by MONARCH. A good winner and 2nd in famous King Edward VII Stakes, (1958). Best distance 1 1/4 to 2 1/4 miles.

The above three horses offer a well balanced group, a Sprinter, a Middle Distance runner and a horse that will go a distance.

DIABLERETS, Bay Colt, 1955 by TULYAR out of DIABLERETTA by DANTE. Winner, with breeding that should prove outstanding in the Stud.

PALAIS D'OR, Grey Gelding, 1955 by PALESTINE out of FOLIE D'OR by VATELLOR. Good useful horse on the flat and also jumps well. Very reasonably priced.

5 & 6-Year-Old RACING STOCK and STALLION PROSPECTS

AL MABSOOT, Bay Horse, 1954 by MAT DE COGNAC out of ROSE O'LYNN by PHER-OZSHAH. Winner at 2, 3 and 4 years of Stakes Value, 10,938,680 francs. Placed second in 1957 King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Stakes at ASCOT, and also placed 2nd in the GRAND CRITERIUM, Longchamp.

MAGIC NORTH, Bay Colt, 1954, by NORSEMAN out of MAGIE NOIRE by FASTNET. Third in the 1957 GRAND PRIX DE PARIS and 4th in the 1957 PRIX DU JOCKEY CLUB, etc.

CHIEF III, Bay Horse, 1953 by NEARCO out of NIKELLORA by VATELLOR. A magnificent horse, with a beautiful pedigree who should prove an outstanding success as a Sire. Won 7 races and Stakes Value 6,996,600 francs and placed seven times. Best distances 1 to 1 1/4 miles.

Elkins Named Sales Agent for La Quinta Club

LA QUINTA — George Elkins Co., of Beverly Hills, has been appointed exclusive sales agent for La Quinta Country Club residential properties, part of a $12 million development program for fashionable La Quinta Hotel.

The new development involves remodeling and redecoration of the hotel, construction of a residential subdivision and an 18-hole championship golf course.

Plans for the new La Quinta program were announced last week by the hotel's new owners, financiers John Elsbach, Roy Crummer and Col. Courtney Turner.

Company officials said that contracts have been let and work is under way on development of residential properties scattered through 1,000 acres of desert garden area.

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: I was in a big store shopping for an Easter party. I was picking out bunnies and chicks and little things for table decorations. I couldn't hold everything in my hands so I asked the floor manager if he would give me a sack, while I shopped some more. He said, "No" and I said, "Why not?" He said, "Because you could walk out the door without paying for them." I said, "If that was my intention I would have brought my own sack." He just turned his back on me. I am still plenty burned up about this and if I had more time I'd have dumped everything on the counter and shopped elsewhere. Don't you think a good store should provide baskets for their shoppers?

DEAR STILL: Indeed I do. And the store where you shopped also could have provided a more tactful floor manager.

DEAR ABBY: A lady wrote to your column and complained that her husband "lost" four hankies in one week. Well, I have her beat. My husband lost two pair of underwear in three days! He comes home drunk and can't remember anything. When I accuse him of running around he says I'm crazy. How should I handle this?

DEAR HAD: Go with him and see that he doesn't lose his shirt.

DEAR ABBY: I went to my doctor for a check-up and he said I should lose ten pounds and he put me on a diet. My husband does not think I am over weight and said if I lost ten pounds I would be a bag of bones and he would have to shake the sheets to find me. Should I obey my doctor or my husband?

DEAR AUDREY: On matters of your health, listen to your doctor. Your husband is still dreaming about the Gibson girl.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were asked to be Godparents for

Elaine Dunn Credits Danny Kaye With a 'Big Boost'

By GEORGE LAINE
Danny Kaye, who has never been accused of insincerity, made a trip backstage after a benefit amateur program for Cleveland's "Milk Fund" in the mid-40s and found a wide-eyed brunette with a dejected look on her face.

Kaye walked right up to the youngster, took her by the hand and looked straight into her eyes. "You didn't win it, honey," the slim comedian with the fat heart said, his voice serious as a college lecturer's, "but you're great. Maybe greater than the kid that won. Keep working, keep dancing. You'll make it big."

LAST NOVEMBER, when Bob Hope was making up his Christmas Show for a tour of overseas military bases, it was Elaine Dunn who got the call as No. 1 dancer, No. 1 singer on the junket.

"I have never forgotten what Danny Kaye told me," she said last night between shows with Ray Bolger in the Chi Chi's Starlite Room. "I kept on working, kept on dancing. I even started singing and learning some pantomime. 'I'm going to make it,' she said.

THE CLEVELAND-BORN brunette has done it all, as they say in Vegas, the "hard way." One of her uncles was a comic dancer and when Benny Ray came home from tours like the "Hellzapoppin'" show, she recalls listening to him talk about the show business life and illustrate his experiences with dance steps.

"I was bitten real good," she smiled. By the time Elaine was eight, her parents—who sometimes had their trouble furnishing such things as three meals a day—made a huge sacrifice. They sent Elaine downtown for dancing lessons. "I really worked at it," she sighed. "I didn't dream I had a chance in the Milk Fund show but I was still disappointed when I didn't win. I wonder if Mr. Kaye realizes what a boost he gave me?"

THE NEAR-WIN in the Cleveland benefit was only the door-opener for the pixie-like dancer.

"By the time I was 13, I was dancing professionally," she remembered. "It was illegal, but I had to dance so I gave the wrong age. My mother was along—both of my parents had given up arguing with me about dancing—and I went into some pretty big time places when I was still pretty much a child."

She played Chin's Victory Room at Cleveland and several other local clubs before moving into New York's Copacabana where show crowds returned again and again and the club reviewers touted her as the freshest new personality to hit Gotham.

MOST STAR-STRUCK tykes can kick away a decade or two waiting for a break on Broadway, but Elaine hadn't been in the Copa for six months before the casting director for the "John Murray Anderson Almanac" gave her a call. She danced her way from that show to "Pal Joey," then into "Catch a Star." It was the later that really put her up there, she feels.

Monte Prosser was getting his revue ready for the opening of the Tropicana in Las Vegas at the time, Elaine said. "He saw 'Catch a Star' and asked me to get a dance routine together for the show. I was flabbergasted, of course, but what really knocked me for a loop was when he asked me to get a couple of songs ready."

"I NEVER consider myself a singer. But I got the songs ready and every reviewer who saw the act in 'Vegas thought my singing was better than my dancing."

A couple of other things happened to Elaine as a result of her gig at the Tropicana.

Gordon Jenkins heard her singing some torchy ballads and straightaway authored a tune for her—which, incidentally, is the high point of her segment in the Bolger show—called "I Feel Like a New Man." Since Elaine couldn't actually feel like that, the meaning in the words is obvious. She conveys the idea with striking clarity, too.

NOW JUST 23, Elaine has one husband and 10 years of show business behind her with the rearing of her 2½-year-old son and a rosy future before her.

She's signed to a recording pact with RCA-Victor (and has already done one recording date with Shorty Rogers) with an album of her interpretations of some unusual standards and some doubly strange original material scheduled for the record marts later in the year.

"I'm going to make it," she said again, tucking a blanket closely around her son's chin. "Maybe not big, but . . . 'I'll keep working and keep dancing. 'And I'll keep singing, too.'"

Compote Time

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fresh fruit time is compote time. Combine 1-3 cup sugar, ½ cup water, 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice, 1 stick whole cinnamon and ½ teaspoon whole cloves in saucepan. Mix well. Bring to boiling point and boil 2 minutes. Strain off spices. Add ¼ teaspoon vanilla, 2 cups each fresh strawberries and fresh pineapple wedges. Chill. Serve in 6 sherbert glasses, garnished with fresh mint.

Smoke Tree Asks Delay On Shop Center Decision

A request for continuance on the application by Smoke Tree, Inc., for a conditional use permit for a 14½-acre shopping center, was approved by the City Planning Commission this week, even though there was every indication that the planning staff was ready to recommend a denial of the application.

Men representing Smoke Tree, Inc., asked for the continuance before the commission could hear the recommendation from Planning Director Hy Ranes.

AN APPLICATION by Marion McDonald for a conditional use permit to engage in outdoor eating at the Las Muchachas restaurant was approved by the commission.

Both Tax

NEW YORK (UPI)—If you think taxes are high today, pity bathers in by-gone days. They had to pay a bath tax.

Soap was subjected to heavy taxes, and only about 100 years ago in England was one such tax abolished. Not until the 9th Century did soap as we know it today come into use. It was considered a great luxury until the 19th Century.

Three Winners Announced in Essay Contest

Three cash prize winners and an honorable mention award have been announced in the Veterans of Foreign Wars National Essay Contest sponsored locally by the Ladies Auxiliary of Frontier Post No. 5987.

The winners, and their prizes, were:

Judy Morrison, first place, $25 savings bond; Jeffrey Smith, second place, $7.50; Diana Stimac, third place, $5; Marrian O'Halloran, honorable mention.

Local essay contest chairman Mrs. John Spargur said that judges were Orvil Zappe, manager of Cathedral City Security First National Bank; John Spargur, master of Masonic Lodge and Don Bachtel, pastor at Community Church of Palm Springs.

Miss Morrison's entry will be entered in competition with 11 other entries in competition for all of Riverside and Imperial Counties.

There are more than 565 independent scientific laboratories in the U.S. working on research and development in consultation with industry.

Capacity Crowd to See Five-Bout Card Tonight

Fullmer, Andrade In Main

Sparked by the appearance of Lamar Clark, 24-year-old, 183-pound Cedar City, Utah, heavyweight, in one bout and Cisco Andrade, one time lightweight's top contender who is making a determined effort to regain the peak in his division in another, a packed house is expected to be present for Palm Springs first major fight program tonight at the Rodeo Field of the Polo Grounds.

Clark, who has won 38 of his 39 fights via the knock-out route "may be another Jack Dempsey" according to his manager, Mary Jensen.

HE TURNED PRO just last year when he went into a prelin in West Jordan, Utah. He flattened two heavyweights in one night in his first pro appearance. On another occasion, he floored six foes in one evening's show. Jensen then took him out of the carnival atmosphere and put him in big time. He continued his lethal wallop and today is rated one of the new sensations in the heavyweight field.

The Clark-Burton fight will be a six-rounder instead of a ten-round affair under orders from the State Boxing Commission.

THE MAIN EVENT, between Jay Fullmer and Cisco Andrade has equal interest. It will pit an up-and-coming lightweight, Fullmer, against a veteran who went to the top, slid back down and is on his way up. Jay Fullmer has a 19-2-1 record while Andrade is a veteran of 52 pro fights with a 46-5-1 record. Only one of his five losses was against a legitimate lightweight, Lauro Salas. His disputed loss to Art Aragon, Ralph Dupas, Johnny Gosselows and Frankie Ruff were over-weight fights.

IN THE OTHER ten-rounder scheduled tonight Don Fullmer meets Orlando DePietro in the middleweight class. Don Fullmer is still undefeated in this division. Two four-round preliminaries round out the card.

Fred McMurray and Andy Isaac, a pair of heavyweights, open the show with Warner Retcher and Al Vega, featherweights, appearing in the second bout.

TONIGHT'S CARD

Tonight's boxing card at the Rodeo Field of the Polo Grounds, starting at 8 o'clock.

1. Fred McMurray vs. Andy Isaac, heavyweights, 4 rounds.

2. Warner Retcher vs. Al Vega, featherweights, 4 rounds.

3. Lamar Clark vs. Tony Burton, heavyweights, 6 rounds.

4. Don Fullmer vs. Orlando DePietro, middleweights, 10 rounds.

5. Jay Fullmer vs. Cisco Andrade, lightweights, 10 rounds.

TONIGHT'S program gets under way at 8 o'clock. Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, will be a guest referee.

Gene Fullmer, former middleweight champion and mentioned as an opponent for Carmen Basilio in a battle for that title in the event Sugar Ray Robinson is deprived of his crown for inaction, will be in the corner to help his two brothers, Jay and Don.

THE FISTIC SHOW is a part of the 23rd annual Desert Circus and a large part of the gate receipts go to Circus charities. Co-promoting the bouts with the Circus association is Matchmaker Jackie Leonard of the Hollywood Legion stadium.

Jensen, who manages Clark, is also manager of Jay and Don Fullmer as well as Gene. Ralph Gambino manages Andrade with Singer Frank Sinatra as co-manager.

Andrade broke camp at Gilman's Hot Springs yesterday to come here with his party. The Fullmers and Clark did their training stint at Blue Skies Trailer Village, DePietro in Los Angeles.

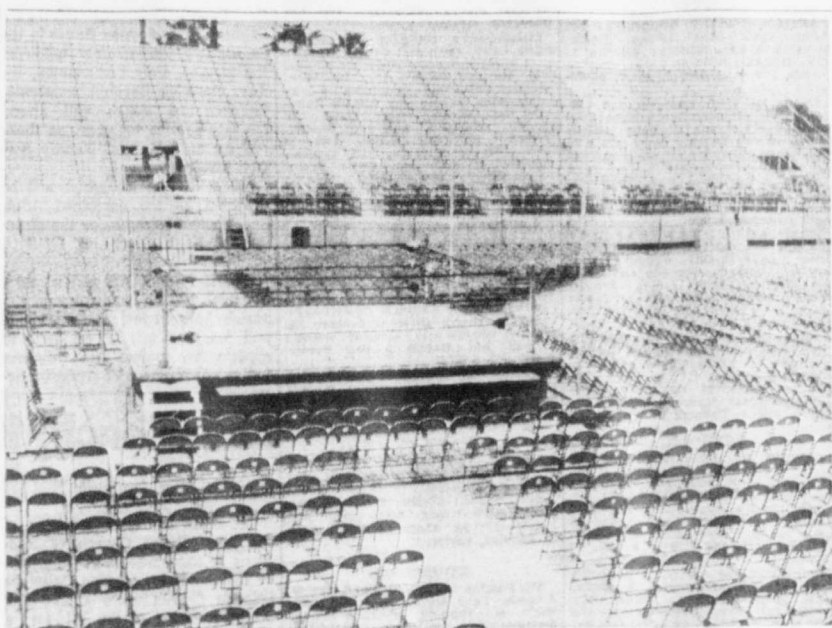

TWO WOMEN SCORE HOLES-IN-ONE IN PLAY AT O'DONNELL

O'Donnell Golf Club's par took a beating this week when two women golfers scored holes-in-one.

Mrs. Earl Thompson was in a match with Mrs. Theda Brady when the latter sunk an ace. Not to be daunted, Mrs. Thompson, the next day, playing with a different partner, also aced one-on-the same hole.

Rougley Breaks Own Record in RCL Track Meet

Palm Springs Bee and Cee track teams won their divisions of a three-cornered Riverside County League track meet at San Jacinto yesterday but the Varsity bowed to Banning High's strong combination.

Bill Smith of the Indian squad was the star of the Varsity meet. He won the 100 in 10.2, the 220 in 23.6 and then went over to the pits and won the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet, 3 1/4 inches.

SMITH'S THREE firsts, however, were the only firsts for the Indians. James Rougley set a new record in the 600-yard in the Cee division, running the distance in 1:27, beating the Riverside County League record he had just recently set, by 8 seconds. He also won the high jump in the Cee division.

DADABURTA DURAN and Jim Hill each took three firsts in the Bee division, Duran winning the 100 in 10.8, the 220 in 21.5 and the broad jump with 18 feet, one inch. Hill won the 70-yard low hurdles in 14.5 and the pole vault at 10 feet. Say won the shot put at 45 feet, 3 inches.

Final scores of the meet:

Varsity — Banning, 41; Palm Springs, 40; San Jacinto, 34.

Bee — Palm Springs, 71; San Jacinto, 46; Banning, 35.

Cee — Palm Springs, 57; 1-6; Banning, 33; 1-3; San Jacinto, 19 1/2.

Arabs Win Over Indian Tankmen

Palm Springs Bees won in their portion of a dual swimming meet with Coachella Valley yesterday at Coachella but the Varsity and Cee teams were dunked by the Arab swimmers.

Scores of the meet were:

Varsity — Coachella, 36; Palm Springs, 32.

Bee — Palm Springs, 47; Coachella, 21.

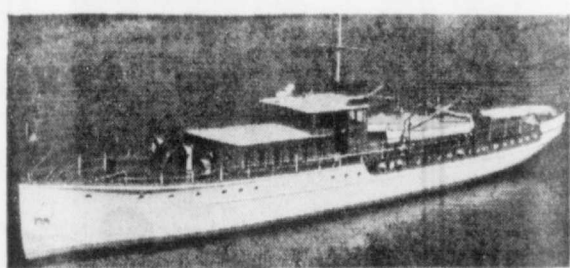

Cee — Coachella, 41; Palm Springs, 35.

TOTAL — Coachella, 118; Palm Springs, 93.

Long Beach Nine Here Tomorrow

Palm Springs baseball team, sponsored by the Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association, will host the Long Beach All-Stars tomorrow at the Polo Grounds.

Palmer Tops Masters by 2 In Tight Play

Field at Halfway Point; Venturi Out Of Competition

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Defending champion Arnold Palmer was in a favorable position today to break the jinx that has kept any golfer from winning two Masters titles in a row.

The long-ball hitting, 29-year-old Palmer, who was the leading money winner last year with a total of $42,607.50, led the 42 survivors in the 23rd Masters Classic by two strokes going into the third round.

His 36-34—70, two under par, in Friday's second round for a total of 141 also was two strokes better than he was at the halfway mark last year when he won the tournament with a total of 284.

Then Ken Venturi, who didn't survive the cut this year, was leading by three strokes but Palmer went on to win.

Closest to Palmer, whose strength Friday was in his putting rather than his noted driving, was Stan Leonard, the veteran Canadian star, who slipped to a two-over-par 74-five strokes off his first round pace setting 69.

Three strokes back of Palmer came seven golfers, including two foreign threats, Angel Miguel of Spain and Dave Thomas of England. The others at 144 were Ed Porky Aliver, Julius Boros, Mike Souchak, Paul Harney and Billy Maxwell.

It took a score of 149 or better to qualify for the final two rounds and those who fell by the way-second choice to Sam Snead in the pre-tourney betting—including Jimmy Demaret, who has won this tourney three times and former U. S. Open champion Lloyd Mangrum and Ed Furgol.

Desert Circus Tourney Results Being Compiled

First annual Desert Circus Golf tournament was a great success with scores of golfers participating on six local courses—but the prize winners won't be known until the tape comes out of the computer.

Play was on six local courses yesterday with low net prizes put up for men and women at each course.

IN ADDITION, there is a grand prize going to the lowest net of all of the six courses for both men and women.

Courses participating were Thunderbird Country Club, Tamarrisk Country Club, Indian Wells Country Club, Ranch Club, O'Donnell Golf Club and Bermuda Dunes Country Club.

Entry fees went to Desert Circus charities. Eldorado Country Club did not participate because of its annual Sunburst tournament under way. It, however, aided with a cash donation to the charities.

SCORES FROM EACH of the courses have been turned in to the committee in charge—Mrs. J. Ross Clark, III, Milton Hicks and Russell Wade.

They will examine the cards and, by the process of elimination, determine the winner.

IT'S OUT OF THIS WORLD

Thunderbird Tourney Attracts Large Field

Over-anxious golfers aiming at the prizes in Thunderbird Country Club's huge "Out of This World" tournament are sharpening up their drives, approaches and putts for Monday's practice rounds in the event.

Although competition doesn't actually begin in the tournament until Thursday, three days of practice golf will be under the belts of most of the contestants before the official opening of the tournament is held.

TOURNEY CHAIRMAN Maynard Laswell said today that eager golfers are practicing already on the 18-hole "dream course" at the country club. He said that almost all of the competitors will have had "a couple of cracks at the course" before the play begins.

On Monday, Laswell said, a practice round for two-man teams will be conducted on the course. A best-ball choose-up will follow on Tuesday with the member-guest twosomes shooting Chapman system rounds on Wednesday.

ENTRANTS in the tournament will start playing Thursday with contestants playing 18 holes on any two out of the three days of the match. Institution of the two-days out of three system is expected to bring all golfing to a close late Saturday afternoon.

Presentation of prizes and awards to winning golfers is scheduled for approximately 5 p.m., Saturday, by the pool at Thunderbird, Laswell said.

A large field that includes top golfers and celebrities alike will match shots in the tourney, Laswell added.

SIX HOMERS Not Enough as Sacs Lose to Mounties

Sacramento's Solons, who haven't won a game in their three road contests this week, will endeavor to break the whammy when they meet Seattle in El Centro tomorrow.

The Sacs, beaten by Seattle and San Diego already this week, took it on the chin yesterday in Yuma when Vancouver won, 13-10.

SIX SOLON HOMERS helped but couldn't win for the Sacramento Solons as the Mounties retaliated with five round-trippers—most of them with runners on base.

Gary Rushing and Cuno Barganier hit two homers each for the Sacs and Chico Heron and Al Heist each hit one.

The Solons return here Tuesday for a game with San Diego.

Six New Works To Be Featured Saturday Night

REDLANDS — Six new works by young composers will be featured — along with pianist Ruth Wilkerson, a noted Redlands University alumna — in the Fourth Annual Orchestral Symposium to be presented at 8:15 p.m., Saturday, in the University of Redlands Memorial Chapel.

Miss Wilkerson, who graduated with a degree in piano, will not play her chosen instrument but will instead be at the typewriter in the performance of "Concertina for Typewriter, Xylophone and Orchestra." Dr. Wayne Bohmstedt, composer of the work and an associate professor of music at the school, will play the xylophone.

AN ORCHESTRA composed of the Redlands University University-Community Symphony Orchestra augmented by Los Angeles music giants will be directed by Edward R. Tritt, also an associate professor of music at Redlands, and by Dr. Bohmstedt.

The new compositions that will be premiered in the symposium are:

—Overture, 1957, by Dr. Matt Doran, now on the music faculty at Mount St. Mary's College in Los Angeles.

—Elegy for Oboe, Horns and Strings, by Jon J. Polifrone, a graduate student studying composition at Michigan State College.

—SYMPHONIC Movement, by Paul Harder, currently studying for his doctorate at Iowa State College.

—Sinfonia, by Robert W. Jones, who won the Charles Wakefield Cadman Scholarship to continue his musical studies at Redlands.

—Sinfonietta for Strings, by George McKay, a member of the music faculty at the University of Washington. McKay's work is already somewhat well-known, particularly on the west coast, by virtue of his four symphonies.

—Ballet Music, by Theron Kirk, whose studies at the Eastman School of Music at Rochester, N.Y., have produced many highly-regarded works.

There is no admission charge.

Morris Schwartz Services Set In Los Angeles

Funeral for Morris Schwartz, a real estate investor here seasonally for the past six years, will be held today in Los Angeles. It was announced last night.

Schwartz, 60, died late Thursday night in his home at 335 Vista Camino here.

A native of Roumania, Schwartz is survived by his wife Bertha and by two brothers, Joseph and Harry.

Arrangements on the funeral and interment are under the direction of Groman's Mortuary in Los Angeles. Wiefels and Son is handling local arrangements.

One of the first men to believe that the earth is spherical in shape was the philosopher Pythagoras, who lived in the 6th century B.C.

Scholarship Is Offered By Carrier Firm

Parents who have wondered how their children will be able to afford a college education may be able to lend the youngsters a hand via a new scholarship announced this week by the Carrier "Room Weathermaker" Department of the air conditioning firm.

Entrants will be asked to complete, in 100 words or less, the statement "I want my child to go to college because..."

One $5,000 scholarship is to be awarded in each of Carrier's many regions of the nation. To be eligible, children must not be more than 21 years of age by Sept. 1, 1960.

Entries may be obtained from Henry A. Simarian, Inc., Carrier dealer for the Village, at 850 North Palm Canyon Drive. The entries must be received at College Scholarship headquarters by September 1.

DESERT CIRCUS

The circus "Kangaroo Court" will recess at 8 p.m. for the fights but will resume immediately following the matches.

8:30 p.m. — Professional boxing at the Palm Springs Polo Grounds. Chico Andrade and Jay Fullmer will clash in the 10-round main event with a series of preliminaries scheduled to precede that match. Villager Jack Dempsey will referee the card which is to provide aid for both the Desert Circus charities and the Mormon Church building fund.

9 p.m. — SHERIFF'S ball at the Elks Club. Dancing and entertainment will be provided in this event.

10 p.m. — Resurrection of Kangaroo Court at the Tennis Club with Mayor Bogert again holding forth with pronouncements on Village "criminals."

The Sunday schedule will provide more than 12 consecutive hours of entertainment, fun, enjoyment and awards.

9:30 A.M.—ANTIQUE car judging at the Palm Springs Polo Grounds. The vintage automobiles will perform in a number of events with awards being handed out for a wide variety of automotive accomplishments.

1:30 p.m.—Competition among antique cars at the Polo Grounds with cars running a strange assortment of races for prizes.

2 p.m.—Hoe Down Square Dance Jamboree at Ramon Trailer Park. Local band and top callers will perform along with the square dance-minded citizens of the area and their guests.

5:30 p.m.—Concert by the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra in the Palm Springs High School Auditorium. Sponsored by the Playhouse Guild, the program will feature Tchaikovsky's Sixth ("Pathétique") Symphony, Respighi's Fountains of Rome, and Rossini's Overture to La Gazza Ladra. Some seats—including excellent choices—are still available, the Guild announces.

Palm Desert To Honor Retail Merchant Group

PALM DESERT — Ralph Hale, owner of Hale's Men's Store in Palm Desert and Montrose, today announced plans for immediate organization of a Palm Desert Retail Merchants Association.

The association will, Hale said, work closely with the Chamber of Commerce in seeking to promote better business relations both inside and outside the community.

"THERE HAS LONG been a definite need," said Hale, "in this fast-growing area for an organization which will promote retail sales through community effort of all merchants."

"This could take the form of an area-wide Dollar Day, month-end sales and seasonal opening and closing promotions," he said.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT of the formation of the new organization followed Hale's decision not to run for re-election to the board of directors of the Chamber in its upcoming May balloting.

"I expect to devote all of my time to this new organization," he said.

Envelope Return Asked by Society

Desert area residents received a firm reminder from the Crippled Children's Society of Riverside County.

The Society reported that nearly half of the Easter Seal campaign has been accomplished but that pink envelopes from many Riverside County citizens — including some here on the desert — have not been received.

Total goal for the organization is $27,500. The Society provides aid for the county's 7,765 physically-handicapped tots.

Flood Control Hearing Set

Riverside County Flood Control District — Zone 6, will hold its preliminary budget hearing at 4 p.m. Thursday, April 9, in the City Council chambers at the city hall.

The purpose of the project will be to discuss the plans and projects for the budget of the fiscal 1959-60 year.

The public is invited to attend, according to Ray Sorum, chairman of the commission.

U.S. railroads employ a total of about 850,000 persons.

DHS NEEDS HOT BETWEEN DESERT AND SPRINGS NAME

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — A mix-up between mail headed for this community and postal delivery aimed at a small community between San Bernardino and Palmdale has Desert Hot Springs Postmaster C. W. Hatheway in a quandary.

Hatheway made a trip to Desert Springs, last week and discovered 47 pieces of mail addressed to residents of Desert Hot Springs mis-addressed and in the far-off post office.

"We have always had trouble with our mail being mis-sent to Desert Springs instead of Desert Hot Springs," Hatheway said.

He suggested that one answer might be to emphasize to correspondents the need for firm insertion of the "Hot" in Desert Hot Springs.

Cancer kills about 4,000 children under 15 years of age in the United States each year.

Supervisors Two Hearings Set for Board

Two public hearings on new county ordinances and opening of bids on Indio jail facilities head a list of 11 items of interest to the desert area scheduled for consideration by the Board of Supervisors Monday.

Items listed on the agenda for the regular supervisory meeting in Riverside include:

PUBLIC HEARING, starting at 10 a.m., on Ordinance 453, involving registration, inspection and licensing of bicycles; and Ordinance 454, regulating storage and dispensing of motor fuels.

Bids will be received at 11 a.m. for construction of additional jail facilities at Indio.

Other items of desert interest: REPORT OF THE county counsel on the present status of incorporation of the proposed City of North Palm Springs; letters requesting the name of a portion of Avenue 40 be changed to Country Club Drive.

Resolution of the City of Coachella relating to use of Thermal Airport by the City of Los Angeles; maps on Indian Wells Village.

'Zany Hat' Party Set for April 21

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — A "Zany Hat" Party has been scheduled for 1:30 p.m., April 21, at the Circle B Ranch here by the Desert Hot Springs Women's Club.

Judges will determine which hat is the funniest and other categories will also be judged.

The affair is a tea with tickets selling for $1.25. Party Chairman Ann Wertz and Thelma Smythe, who makes her home at Circle B Ranch, have invited members of the club and their guests to attend the function.

At least 25 billion Lincoln pennies have been minted since the first one in 1909.

We Salute... NATIONAL BOYS' CLUB WEEK

BOYS' CLUB OF AMERICA

Founded 1906
Chartered by Congress 1956

To meet the challenge of the future... to develop new areas of knowledge and responsibilities, National Boys' Club Week is set to acquaint the people of the nation with the work of America's oldest boys' organization.

In support of the ideals prescribed by the Boys' Club code, the following merchants of the desert area recognize the leadership given these boys to prepare them for the job of becoming "tomorrows leaders" and making them ready to shoulder the responsibilities of the space age.

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford
Phone FA 5-5005

The armful of golden carnations . . . flown here from Denver to be presented to the First Lady of California . . . were beautiful . . . like sunshine imprisoned in flowers . . . and keyed this whole Circus Week theme of honoring Colorado in its Centennial Year . . . As Governor McNichols said when he accepted the giant golden key to the city from Mayor Frank Bogert . . . "There is a common kinship (between the two sovereign states) . . . that mountains can't divide" . . . As the junketing Colorado Governor and his entourage of around 120 descended from their sky-wagon . . . some in western dress and some in picturesque garb of a century ago . . . they found a warm welcome awaiting them . . .

Palm Springers know well that nothing warms up the weather faster than Desert Circus Week . . . but it wasn't just the thermometer that soared . . . The warm and friendly welcome included the high school band playing "California Here I Come" . . . KDES mobile unit blaring out the new Colorado song written by Hoagy Carmichael (America to you, too, Hoagy!) . . . Brownies and Girl Scouts waving tiny Colorado flags . . . Mounted Police on horseback . . . Sheriff's deputies in black and white . . . antique cars . . . and swarms of townspeople . . . who turned out to see the fun . . . and waited patiently for the hour-late arrival . . . when the four lovely Golden Jets came down the steps carrying the sign "Take us to your Leader" . . . the audience was captured . . .

The party given by Bonnie and Hank Ridder at their beautiful home on Santa Rosa . . . was one of the highlights of the week . . . It was arranged to honor the Governors of California and Colorado and their wives . . . but Governor Pat Brown was unable to be there . . . due to pressure of business . . . and Mrs. Brown, who is a guest of the Ridders . . . said he wouldn't be in Palm Springs until 5:30 last night . . . in time for the Big Top Ball . . .

The Ridder home was filled with flowers and the flower beds in the garden were thickly massed with blossoms . . . Pat Barbara and his orchestra were set up on the grass in front of the fountain . . .

where a Colorado flag fashioned from flowers was an eye catcher . . .

Mrs. Brown was admiring the buffet table . . . which was centered with a graceful arrangement of red, white and blue flowers . . . and we each had one of those mammoth hot house strawberries (Jack Boyer says it costs 35 cents to grow one of the berries) . . . that surrounded the bowl of melon balls . . .

Met Governor McNichols and his charming wife . . . and the John Paynes, who arrived with their friend Winsome Courtney . . . Said "hi" to Phil Regan who looked handsome in white (why don't we do more of this wearing of white . . . it looks so cool and smart) . . . and greeted Thayer Tutt (president of the Colorado Centennial Celebration) . . . and owner of the Broadmoor Hotel) . . . and to the Frank Ricketsons whom I had met at the airport in the afternoon . . . He's president of the Central City Opera Company . . . and Eisenhower has appointed him on the National Cultural Center . . . A Ranchero member . . . he is also president of the Round Up Riders of Denver . . .

The entire Colorado contingent was invited to the reception . . . Among localities present were . . . the Dan Thorntons, Earl Buckinghams, R. R. Hallis, Joe Dyers, Zach Brinkerhoffs, the Regans, Charles Farrells, Gus Kettmanns, Frank Bogerts . . . the Nat Dumonts, George Barretts, Dolph Obergefelds, Clarke Swansons, Lou Manseaus, John Dawsons, Jimmy Morton . . . Jack Luccarens, Bill Ottos, Dolph Bromers, Glenn Austins . . . Chauncey Needhams, and others . . .

Cast a regretful glance at the fine company . . . the tempting hot canapés . . . and the flower-festooned bowl of champagne punch . . . and took off for the Racquet Club . . . where Charlie Farrell was hosting the Sheriff's deputies at buffet . . . preliminary to the Night on the Town . . .

The buffet was unusually elegant with a huge ice carving of a seal with a ball balanced on its nose . . . The bus was honking for the deputies to get aboard . . . and we dashed out the gate . . . we said "hail and farewell" to the Ray Ryan party that was arriving for dinner . . . Patti Page and Charles O'Curran, Bill Holden, and several others . . .

Night on the Town had a musical accompaniment this year from the KDES sound truck . . . At Howard Manor the invading deputies interrupted the champagne wedding supper of ex-Desert Circus chairman Bob Marx . . . had met his bride lovely Carol Maranz . . . The two had been married at 5:30 at the Tamarisk Country Club home of his parents the Gummo Marxes . . . with Rabbi Horowitz officiating . . . Both sets of parents and best man Michael Mekjean were in the wedding supper party . . . The newlyweds said they are planning a wedding trip north along the coast to San Francisco . . .

Said "welcome back" to Basil Brewer (and sold him a deputy badge) . . . At Chi Chi we saw most of the Ray Bolger show . . .

affairs, Mrs. William McNichols, mother of Governor Steve McNichols, who stands next to her, Mrs. Ridder and Mrs. McNichols. (Anderson Photo)

Club Plans Party Day April 13

It will be "Party Day" again for the Palm Springs Woman's Club when they gather at the Racquet Club, April 13 at 12:30 p. m. for the last of the large bridge luncheons that have been gay occasions this season.

Mrs. J. B. Springer, chairman, has planned glamorous flower decorations with a fashion show presented by the Racquet Club Sportswear Shop as the feature of the day.

Assisting hostesses are Mrs. Chauncey Mahannah, Charles Henderson, Vera Farrell, Roy W. Burton, and Miss Hazel Gross.

Reservations are open to the public with proceeds from the event to be used for the club scholarship fund. Miss Hazel Gross, FA 4-1802, and Mrs. Springer, FA 4-2316, are taking reservations.

While we waited for the cue of a western hat tossed out into the spotlight . . . to raid the customers . . . Does anyone need to be told that Bolger is the greatest . . . You must have heard that this show is one . . . not to miss . . .

The bus stopped at the Ranch Club . . . and at the Beachcomber . . . and deputies invaded The Dunes (Connie was among the invaders) . . . but I don't know where they went from there . . . That's when I always make my getaway . . . carrying more for charity than buttons or badges . . .

There will be lots to write about Tuesday . . . the Regan party for the two Governors and their wives . . . the Big Top Ball . . . Kangaroo Court . . . the Symphony dinner and concert . . . Until then . . . be seeing you around town . . . in western clothes . . .

Houseguests at the Mesa Drive home of Mr. and Mrs. Arsen G. Alchian are Mrs. Billie Long and son Larry from Las Vegas who are here for Desert Circus Week celebrations.

Dinner Precedes Symphony

Striking a gay note as a prelude to the Sunday night appearance here of the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra, will be the pre-symphony dinner at the Tennis Club.

The Playhouse Guild, which is sponsoring the concert is also arranging the dinner, which is limited to Guild members and their guests. Mrs. Robert Morrey is dinner chairman, with the following hostesses: Mesdames Henry Dillard, Charles Dant, Earl Henderson, James Kemper, Austin McManus, Paul Reynolds, W. F. Schlotman. Cocktails are at 5 and dinner at 6 p. m., to allow plenty of time for prompt arrival at the symphony which begins at 8:30.

Arturo Basile, guest conductor of the orchestra will be an honored guest, and will be in the party hosted by Guild president Mrs. John F. Luccareni and her husband. Others in their group will be the John McClures, Harold Coopers, Harold McAlisters, Jack Frenches, Henry Dillards, Billy Maloufs, Francis Gudgers (Marjorie Rambeau), Walter Brunmarks, General and Mrs. Victor Bertrandias, Beverly DeTarrs, Charles Farrells, James Kempers, Randolph Christies, James Abernathys, and Mrs. Alice Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bagdasarian will host 14, including the Co Thorntons, A. R. Simons and daughter Lynne, Mrs. Helen Finsterwald and Fred Finsterwald.

the Sydney Schiffs, Julie Taurag, Mrs. Leonard Bock.

With Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Coffey will be Mr. and Mrs. Robson Chambers, the Warren Slaughters and Lloyd Tevies. The Robert Morreys will have Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ker and Mrs. George Anderson at their table.

Mr. and Mrs. William Otto will act as hosts to a no-host table including the Robert Buckners, Burnham Bigelows, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Williams, the Ed Canbys, James Hammonds, David Frislanas, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Fretz, more.

Among others planning to attend are Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wadsworth Jr. (she's president of L.A.'s Junior Philharmonic), Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dumbolton (she's vice president of Southern California Symphony), Elaine Childs Elser, Mrs. Frank Russell Payne, Edith and Dick Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clapp, and many more.

Committee at Work Planning Social Events for Tournament

Committees have been chosen and programming arranged for social events that will be linked to the Thunderbird Country Club's "Out of This World" golf tournament to be held next Thursday, Friday and Saturday on the greens of the local club.

Maynard Laswell yesterday announced that a week-long series of events — including a fashion show, card parties and cocktail parties and two dances — have been arranged for the member-guest golf competition.

Cocktail parties are scheduled throughout the event, with the first one to follow Tuesday's foursome rounds. Desi Arnaz and his full orchestra will play for a dinner dance at the club following two-some play on Wednesday.

The tournament officially begins on Thursday and a bridge and gin rummy luncheon for ladies is scheduled for noon at the club. A fashion show luncheon — featuring styles by Dorothy Gray and Furs by Courtney — will be held at the club on Friday.

On Saturday, following completion of the final rounds, a huge cocktail party and prize presentation will be held in Thunderbird Estates with a dance to follow. Spade Cooley's band will be featured.

Many social leaders from throughout the nation are to be on hand for the event. Committee members and the jobs they are performing are Lee Metzger and Dottie Buckingham, fan; Harry Von Zell, entertainment; Marcia Barrett, fashion show; and Sadie Hall, card parties.

Luncheon Themed By Circus

Desert Circus themed the beautiful bridge luncheon which Mrs. G. K. Sanborn hosted at the Tennis Club on Thursday, with the Big Top motif used in invitations, decor and prizes.

Guests gathered first in the Venetian Room for pre-luncheon cocktails, moving into the Bougainvillea Room to find their places at U-shaped tables. Three long floral arrangements floated miniature balloons as accent notes, and six little elephants paraded carrying balloons.

Luncheon menu included those delicate ham-cheese-and-asparagus pancakes and a festive dessert of cherries jubilee.

Prizes of Italian blown glass clowns went to the winners at the bridge tables.

Guests from out of town were Mrs. Kerrick Oldham of LaCanada, Mrs. F. B. Douchy of Riverside and Mrs. Harold Lienau of Colton. Other guests were: Mesdames Ruth Blanchard, Katherine Gentry, Nora Lockwood, Robert Allen, Earle Arnold, Milford Beebe, Lou Billington, Francis Brugman, Roy Burton, Fred Gooden, Ted Griffith, Maynard Groth, Lee Havener, Bow Herbert, Thomas Holland, Sam Janis, Clare Kinne, Howard Matthews, Francis Pruitt, Ward Risvold, Marvin Sale, John Sanborn, Bryan Sanders, George Smith, Joseph Stermer, Paul Summitt, Edward Wallace, Walter Whittall.

Eldorado Polo Party Ends Season

Bob Haynie, president of Eldorado Polo Club, gave an "end of the season" cocktail party at his cottage at Eldorado Country Club Sunday after the polo match between Eldorado and San Francisco Polo Club which marked the final game for the local club.

About fifty guests gathered in the Haynie cottage overlooking the beautiful pool at Eldorado.

Among those present were the Robert Rydes, the John Dawsons, the Jimmy Hines, the Will Tevises, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Morrey, the Bob Smiths, the Morris Morrisons, Dick Neville, Rowena Dorough, Jack Conant, Bill Sharpe, Lisle Nixons, Jean Schilling, Congressman and Mrs. Robert Barry, the Blaine Stephensons.

General Bowser And His Wife Visitors Here

Commanding General of the 29 Palms Marine Base General A. L. Bowser and Mrs. Bowser will be special guests of the American Legion this weekend. Staying at the Oasis Hotel where they will be joined by Colonel and Mrs. Curtis Burton Jr. Following the Saturday morning parade they will be taken on a tour of the American Legion Building and to meet the members. Afterwards they will be luncheon guests at the Racquet Club.

Tomorrow night they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Dwyer at a poolside barbecue at their home on San Lucas Road, going on to attend the Palm Springs Playhouse.

Hostess Gives Bridge Luncheon

Using arrangements of yellow roses throughout the house, Mrs. Roy W. Burjon was hostess at a bridge luncheon at her home at 344 Sunset.

Guests included Mesdames George Chandler, Grace Steinberg, Walter Yeaton, Walter Bachman, Edward Banning, Welcome Waltz, James A. Fitzpatrick, Herbert Winkler, Jerry Sanborn, D. B. Carlin, William Froude, Meade Hargiss, Glenn Watson, Vahan Alchian, Ben Read, V. M. Barton, Chauncey Mahannah, Charles German, Irvin Wright, Earle Arnold, Thomas Holland, Doak Davis, Vera Farrell, Joseph Fortner, Allen P. James, Linn Smith, Miss Hazel Gross and Miss Lillian Sebelius.

ENJOYING THE last polo match of the season at Eldorado are, Congressman Robert Barry of New York (Bob was an aide to Nelson Rockefeller while he was campaigning for the governorship of New York in the recent election), Wren Tevis, Mrs. Barry, and Polo Club's popular president, Bob Haynie.

PRETTY AND POPULAR Sandra Tevis accepting first prize in the Equestrian Hat Parade held at the polo matches at the Eldorado fields on Easter Sunday. Mrs. John Ryde, who arranged the affair presents the prize. Mrs. Ryde and her husband John (president of McCulloch Motors Inc.) are spending a month at the Bob McCulloch's cottage at Eldorado Country Club. Miss Tevis, popular club from San Francisco and Palm Springs, daughter of the Will Tevises, is spending her Easter vacation with her parents. She is a student at Finch College in New York City.

'Man in the Dog Suit' Opens Tuesday at the Playhouse

"The Man in the Dog Suit" a play by Albert Beich and William H. Wright, will have its West Coast premiere at the Palm Springs Playhouse, Tuesday night, April 7.

This stage play with the intriguing title, has starred Jessica Tandy and Hume Cronyn on Broadway this past season, and is a mirthful, thought-provoking comedy. It might well be the answer to "Do clothes make the man?"

In the Palm Springs Playhouse production, Jack Harris, veteran actor, plays a man, married for some seven years to a very rich and eager wife, who has a very rich and "helpful" father. He finds himself overshadowed and outnumbered by them. Every day life continues routine however, until an invitation to a costume party changes all. Finding himself, by mistake, the bearer of a police dog costume, he finds also that as the wearer strange and exciting things begin to happen.

Jack Harris has been in show business for the last 25 years. He began his career with James Timony and Mae West at the Hollywood Theatre in Hollywood. He has been actor, director and producer for the Pasadena Playhouse for seven years; managing director of the Laguna Beach Playhouse; and toured with various stock companies in this country and Europe. He has been seen on TV in such shows as "Dragnet," "Father Knows Best," "Men of Annapolis," and has recently finished his tenth role in a "Perry Mason" show.

Christy Palmer is also starred in "The Man in the Dog Suit," and has been seen many times by audiences at the Palm Springs Playhouse. She toured for two years with the National Company of "South Pacific," and later with Deborah Kerr and Alan Baxter in "Tea and Sympathy."

"The Man in the Dog Suit" continues at the Palm Springs Playhouse through April 12th. Reservations obtained by calling FA 5-6189. Tickets available at the box office. Curtain time 8:30.

A pert violet print on Sailstone, in yellow, pink or green. 5-15, $25-35.

THE FIERY SOUTH American music and dancing of the Los Chicanos, highlighted by the sensational drum and accordion work of Pepe Dapena, above, have been held over at Desi Amaz Western Hills Hotel. The colorful Los Chicanos are natives of Santiago, Chile, and are made up of a family unit consisting of two brothers, two sisters and their mother. The troupe's exciting instrumentals, authentic South American dances and brilliant vocalizing are winning many aficionados at Desi's sparklig hotel on Highway 111's "blue chip" strip.

Blythe Airport Contract-Lease Approved by Board

An agreement with the Colorado River Airport Co. for lease of Blythe Airport buildings and land, and management of the airport by the company's president, Robert F. Bean, was finally approved by the Board of Supervisors this week.

Dollar-Saving Brief

NEW YORK (UPI) — To reduce construction costs, most new homes have a "utility core" — a central network of piping to serve kitchen, laundry and bath. Keeping bathing facilities as close as possible to this core minimizes installation costs.

The contract has been hanging fire since early in January when Bean moved onto the field and commenced his duties. Provisions for lease renewals and for subleasing were questioned by the supervisors and have been revised.

UNDER THE CONTRACT which was executed, the lessee may renew periodically every year for 10 years following an initial period of five years. The rental fee begins at $200 per month and may be renegotiated at the end of the five-year period and every five years thereafter provided that any increase shall not exceed 20 per cent of the pre-existing rental rate.

Bean's duties as manager include furnishing service to local and transient aircraft during all daylight hours, but not less than eight hours per day seven days a week.

THE COMPANY is given exclusive right for retail sale of aviation fuels and oils, and the right to operate an aircraft overhaul and sales business as dealer in new and used aircraft. They are to receive the income from aircraft storage, aircraft parking, and tie-down fees. They are given the privilege of operating an aircraft charter service and a private flying school, and the right to operate a restaurant in the western portion of the flight building subject to procurement of a license.

Subleasing, or leasing or rental of additional land space or building must first be approved by the airport commission. The lessees agree to repair to serviceable condition within two years a warehouse building and a parachute building.
